REIDSVILLE READS RIOT ACT.

Blood on the Moon in Our Sister City.

TROOPS AT ARMORY ALL NIGHT.

Negroes Congregated and Had a Band With Them Last Night—Trouble Still Brewing There.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

REIDSVILLE, Sept. 14.—A race riot at any time yesterday or last night would not have been unexpected. The trouble all arose over a colored barber named Allen refusing to pay his taxes. J. E. Lamberth, the tax collector here, is a former citizen of Guilford county and is known to many Greensboro people.

It appears that Allen, the barber, has for several years refused to pay his taxes until his wages were garnisheed on Saturday.

Yesterday about noon the negro stopped Mr. Lamberth on one of the business streets and demanded an explanation. Lamberth told the negro that he was compelled to resort to this means of getting the money, but added that if he would pay his taxes then he could save him the additional costs. Allen gave him no satisfaction and the collector walked away.

Before he had gone far, however, the negro called him ugly names and Mr. Keatts, who was standing between Mr. Lamberth and the negro, struck Allen, knocking him down. He then proceeded to administer severe punishment.

In the scuffle Keatts was slightly wounded in the arm with a razor, by Allen or some other negro; he was also hit with a beer bottle by Smith, another negro. At this juncture Mr. Lamberth came to the rescue and pounded Allen with a stick and also kept the other negroes at bay.

There were no arrests made during the day, and in the afternoon, it is said, Allen and several of his race purchased amunition, and made many ugly threats as to what would happen during the night.

The white citizens of the city armed themselves and were prepared for an outbreak at any time. Twenty-five to fifty members of the military companies assembled at either armory, prepared to respond promptly, if needed.

On one street a crowd of negroes, estimated at two or three hundred, were congregated. A colored band was assembled with them, and for some time they continued to make more threats.

A few white citizens of the place and members of the police force gave them notice that the crowd must disperse. This request was, to a certain extent, complied with, many of them leaving the streets, but the soldiers remained around the armories through the night as a precaution.

Today Allen and Smith will be arrested and placed in jail. It is not known what the result will be, but Reidsville may be the scene of a bloody race riot within the next twenty-four hours.

The wife of Mr. Lamberth was in a precarious condition last night. She had several nervous convulsions, and the friends of the family were greatly alarmed. Mr. Lamberth has been married only a few months. His wife was formerly a Miss Williamson, of Danville.

SAGASTA ON THE SITUATION.

Says the Uprising is Spreading Instead of Dying Out.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader, in an interview today upon the subject of the Cuban insurrection, said that the uprising is spreading considerably instead of dying out. He also said that the situation in the Phillipine Islands is serious, and that the Carlist propoganda in Spain cannot be viewed with indifference.

He expresses the belief that a reconciliation between the political parties in Spain is impossible so long as the conservative party remains in power. He refused to talk on Spain's relations with the United States.

Gates Opened for the Faithful.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Judge Cox, of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, today dismissed the bill of complaint of Mr. John G. Wood, superintendent of mails at Louisville, saying that Postmaster-General Gary and Assistant Postmaster-General Heath had been enjoined from removing him from office.

The case has been considered in the nature of a test of the power of removal, and the delivery of the opinion drew to the court room many public officers, including members of the civil service commission.

Ambassadors of the Powers Agree.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—The ambassadors of the powers to-day arrived at a final understanding in regard to the terms of peace between Turkey and Greece upon the basis proposed by Lord Salisbury. This is substantially that an international commission composed of one representative from each of the powers is to control the Greek revenues in order to meet the indemnity, and the Turkish troops are to be withdrawn from Thessaly.

Maj. Chas. M. Steadman and W. P. Ragan, of this city, have entered into partnership and made arrangements to open a law office at High Point in a few days. Mr. Ragan will manage the office at High Point, while Major Steadman will remain in Greensboro.

Major Steadman is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in the state, and though having recently moved to Greensboro, is building up a splendid practic. His long and varied experience, coupled with his learning and erudition, easily place him in the very fore-front of the legal profession.

Mr. Ragan is a young man with bright prospects before him, having recently obtained his license to practice law. We congratulate him upon the good fortune of having become associated with so polished and able a lawyer as Major Steadman, and wish the firm of Steadman & Ragan much success.

Says they Get Drunk.

Rev. J. A. B. Fry, a Winston minister, created quite a sensation when he made the statement Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. meeting in that city, that he had been informed that every usher in one of the most influential churches of Winston had been drunk save one. This was going for the boys with gloves off, and set some of the people of the Twin City to talking.

ANNOINTED WITH OIL.

Rev. W. P. Fife and His Co-Laborer at High Point.

Messrs. F. N. Day and D. H. Browder went down to High Point yesterday to attend Rev. W. P. Fife's meeting, which is attracting considerable attention on account of the doctrine of "divine healing" as set forth by Evangelist T. H. Leavitt, of Canada, who is assisting Mr. Fife.

Believers in this doctrine claim that any and all diseases can be healed by the afflicted person giving himself wholly up to God and allowing Him to dwell within him. There were four persons anointed with oil at the services yesterday which Messrs. Day and Browder attended, for different troubles, and one old lady, whose disease was heart trouble, testified that she felt her troubles leave her and felt peace within even as the oil was poured upon her.

Mr. Fife is a convert to the new faith and says he has thrown away all medicine and is now living, sound and well, by the help of the spirit of God that dwells within him.—Winston Journal.

THE Baltimore Sun, which is usually conservative in its discussions of public events, and certainly cannot be charged with partiality toward the strikers, says of the Lattimer affair: "The shooting of the miners at Lattimer was simply murder under the forms of law. Government by injunction in this case has borne bloody fruit. The practical question is how are such occurrences to be prevented in the future? Simply by preventing the exercise of tyranny on the one side and lawless interference on the other by establishing a system of arbitration, which will compel the parties, when the interests involved are of great magnitude, to submit their differences to the decision of an impartial tribunal. The country cannot afford to permit the continuance of conflicts which are sowing the seed of class hatred and possibly of revolution in the future."

THIS would seem to be a day of nostrums of all sorts. Those of the political variety are so numerous and so well known that they may be dismissed to the limbo of exploded has-beens without further attention. North Carolina is afflicted with her share of religious nostrums, as well as political, just now. The Mormans and Faithcurists and Sanctificationists seem to find our in people a more or less fertile soil. These things can not be helped perhaps, but they are none the less harmful for all that. In the inevitable reaction from these extreme and irrational views the cause of genuine religion necessarily suffers to a certain extent.

TWO men have been arrested in Pennsylvania for defaming Mr. Wanamaker. If Mr. Wanamaker were to procure the arrest of all the men in the country who have expressed opinions that he would consider defamatory, there would not be standing room in the jails for them. There are a good many folks that recall how that gentleman forbade, as Postmaster General, the transmission of one of Tolstoi's novels through the mails—after he had tried to secure the American copyright on the work and failed. It is a bit late in the day for the merchant prince to grow over nice about his reputation.

THE spectacle of the Duke and Duchess of York making a triumphal procession through half-starved Ireland is not one that thrills the civilized world with admiration and the reports of an enthusiastic reception by the Irish will be properly discounted. The famine in India, while the jubilee was in progress, and the threatened famine in Ireland, while all of this show business is going on, will not aid England's drum beat in chasing the morning sun, some bright day. There are certain things about Brittania's sway that do not show her to be waxing sentimentally humanitarian as yet.

THE uses of adversity may be sweet, but the broad smile on the face of the citizen betokens an opinion on his part that the ways of prosperity are not bitter, for a change.

EMPEROR WILLIAM and King Humbert having gotten through hob-nobbing the war lord and Francis Joseph are embracing and kissing as an evidence of unseverable affection. There is something so exceedingly ardent about these royal attachments as to raise a doubt of their staying qualities. Presidents McKinley and Diaz should proceed to tumble into each other's arms and get in the fashion.

IT is evident that a rail from the civil service fence is the most convenient lever for prising out the fellow who is in. Who was the man that said the Republican party never failed to redeem a pledge? Possibly he referred to pledges to the "boys" instead of to the country at large.

GENERAL GARCIA, the Cuban leader, seems to have learned a wrinkle or two from the "law-abiding" citizens of our own happy land, since yesterday's dispatches report that he lynched eleven merchants at one time. This beats even the record of Arkansas, which stopped at six.

A DISPATCH says that the "long, smoldering flames of revolution have at last broken out in Guatemala." That is news, indeed! We had supposed hitherto that those same flames were never allowed to smolder at all.

Paid Taxes in Coppers.

There has been quite an early rush to pay taxes, as many people are afraid they may be prosecuted under the new law, and laid liable to imprisonment for delinquency in this matter. Whether the law is enforced or not, it tends towards the prompter payment of the "tribute unto Cæsar" that all citizens have to pay.

Today a man came into the sheriff's office with what might have been gold from Klondyke, but wasn't. It was a lot of "brownies," known in the coin of the realm as United States copper cents. The clerks counted them out and there were 1684 coppers, the amount due for taxes. And though coppers are hardly legal tender in such quantities, he got the receipt for his taxes.—Charlotte News.

The town of Statesville voted for the $52,000 worth of bonds necessary to put in waterworks by a large majority yesterday.

The state prison authorities have sent away 112 convicts to the various state farms and only 100 are now left in the pen.

Mrs. Logie, who was assaulted near Charlotte by her husband in a fit of temporary insanity is dead. Logie will be sent to the asylum.

Newbern is strictly enforcing her law against the sale of cool drinks on Sunday and the citizens are making loud complaints against it.

Prof. A. H. Eldridge, who has been chosen professor of mechanical engineering at the A. & M. College, has declined the position and it is now vacant.

Governor Russell has gone to Wilmington; he will not, it is thought, announce his decision in the railroad commission case before the first of October.

There is a shortage of $196 in the Southern's office at Hickory. All of the employes, except the ticket agent, have been discharged and an investigation will be made.

A stock company capitalized at $10,000 has been organized in Salisbury to put in an electric lighting plant. Seven thousand dollars of the stock has already been taken.

The officers of the state fair have abandoned the idea of illuminating the grounds with electricity at night. The railroads have made an especially low rate and the tickets will contain coupons for admission to the fair.

Trinity College Notes.

Special Cor. to THE TELEGRAM.

TRINITY COLLEGE, Sept. 14.

The fifty-fourth year of Trinity College has begun with the brightest prospects. This morning 150 students settled down to do a hard year's work. The spirit of the old boys is at its height in every sense, and this mingled with the determination and ambition of the new students will make any college year a success.

On Saturday night a reception was given by the Y. M. C. A., in honor of the new students in the parlors and dining hall of the College Inn. Toasts were responded to in a very entertaining and enjoyable way by representatives from the students, faculty, trustees and pastors of the city churches. Home and studies were forgotton for a while and everyone gave themselves up to the joys and pleasures of such an occasion.

On Sunday morning a great majority of the students connected themselves with Trinity or Main street Sunday School, as they choose. Dr. Vanderslice, of Richmond, who is conducting revival services at Trinity Church, preached an able sermon on Sunday morning, which was listened to by many of the Trinity students.

Y. M. C. A. services were conducted on Sunday afternoon by the president, Mr. J. C. Wooten.

In the afternoon baseball and tennis command the attention of those who desire recreation and exercise. Prospects are bright for a good baseball team.

Many of the boys have bicycles and every afternoon they can be seen taking advantage of the good drives on the campus road and in and around Durham.

Mr. Nelson Goes to Creensboro.

J. T. Nelson, who has been making mattresses at G. W. Wright's, left this morning for Greensboro, where he has accepted a position as foreman of the Piedmont Mattress Factory, of that city. Mr. Nelson is a capital mattress maker, having frequently made as high as ten mattresses a day by hand.—Salisbury World.

PORTABLE TAILOR SHOP.

Proprietor Moves It From Place to Place by the Aid of a Trolley Car.

Belleville, N. J., is about to lose its most unique place of business, which was one of the strangest in the state. About six months ago Otto Nack, a German tailor, had a discussion with his landlord. The discussion ended, the landlord says, at least as far as he was concerned, when Nack chased him out of his place by trying to stab him with a pair of big tailor's shears.

Nack was as sick of landlords as this particular landlord was sick of him and invented a place of business which earned him free advertising and good business for a time. From the traction company he purchased two old horse cars. These were run off the tracks to a vacant lot, and Nack hung out his sign and began business.

Business has been slack of late, and the tailor took down his signs and slammed the doors shut with a bang more vicious than any old time conductor on a recent hot day. He set off on a tour of the railroad lines in search of fields and pastures new. He found them somewhere, for the two old cars are to be dragged on the tracks and hitched to a trolley and will again spin along the rails to their new location, where they will be shunted off on another vacant lot, and their owner will resume business.

When the new field is worked out, the store and residence will have another flying trip, their owner proposing to keep up this mode of life until he finds a town whose people are so poorly clad that they will need his services permanently. Then the wheels will be taken from the old cars, and they will be allowed to rest for good.—New York Press.

FOUND WHAT HE SOUGHT.

A Man Hunting Trouble Is Furnished With a Quantity of It.

Preacher Alexander Williamson was delivering an impassioned exhortation at the colored camp meeting at Quarryville, Pa., the other night, when Sanders Richardson, a well known character of that region, who had been to Lancaster during the day and had bought a jugful of whisky, started to take up a collection on his own account.

The Rev. Mr. Williamson stopped short in his sermon and asked Richardson to desist. Sanders ignored the request and declared he had come to camp meeting looking for trouble. The Rev. Mr. Williamson closed the Bible, walked down from the pulpit, and undertook to conduct Richardson from the place.

The brethren and sisters kept up an almost continual shouting while the parson made his way toward Richardson.

"Just you keep quiet," said the preacher. Then he grabbed Richardson and administered to him a most thorough and artistic thrashing. When the thrashing was over, Richardson was unconscious. The leader of the choir, a man weighing 250 pounds, picked up Richardson and handed him over to a constable, who had been attracted by the noise. Then the Rev. Mr. Williamson finished his sermon as if nothing had happened to interrupt the service.

A Hot Time Ahead For England.

Charles N. Spooner, an Englishman, who spent three years in Simla and is now visiting his sister in Philadelphia, said yesterday that the British government would have much trouble in suppressing the revolt in India. "The Afridis," said he, "are the fiercest of all Indian tribes. They are desperate fighters and don't know what fear is. They are all Mohammedans, and there is just a chance that all the other tribes will become involved. If they do, there will be a long and bitter struggle. The Mohammedans stick together with remarkable fidelity. I believe that if the revolt spreads any farther England will have to send her entire military force to India.—Philadelphia Press.

Pearls In Arkansas.

White river, above and below Mount Adam, Ark., for several miles is lined with pearl hunters. The people are greatly excited over the discovery. Wagon loads of men, women and children are arriving from all sections. One party of campers found a large number of fine pearls recently. They were taken to the store of N. B. Price, and he valued them at $350. The pearls found are as large as buckshot, round and brilliant in color.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Flames Felt All Right.

The boy stood on the burning deck and rubbed his hands in glee. "I'm just from Klondike," he explained. "This feels all right to me."—Two Republics.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Anton Dolina has gone to Dyea on a mission for Italian women of Chicago, whom it is proposed to use in competition with squaws in packing burdens over the trail to the Klondike.

The Empress Eugenie has returned to Farnborough after a long cruise in the yacht Thistle.

The portraits of former secretaries of war have been returned to the department after a thorough cleaning at the Corcoran Gallery of Art.

A new field of work for American women has been invaded by Miss Jennie Revert of Long Island, who will this year be graduated from the veterinary school in Alfort, France.

A new musical prodigy has appeared in Vienna in the person of Paula Ezalit, a 10-year old girl, who is said to rival Josef Hoffman in piano playing.

Pastor Kneipp, the water cure priest of Woerishofen, Bavaria, left all his property to his lifelong friend, Pastor Stuckle, in Mindheim, cutting off his relatives with nothing.

State Treasurer Worth passed through this morning on his return to Raleigh.

Winston Journal: J. R. Rankin, of Greensboro, was in the city yesterday.

Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey returned this morning from a visit to Rutherfordton.

Dolph Moore left this morning for Graham to spend a day or two with his people.

Charlotte News: J. Sterling Jones, the Greensboro insurance man, arrived this morning.

F. A. Pierce has been confined to his room at the Benbow with rheumatism since Saturday.

R. D. Douglas left last night for Ohio. He went on business and will be absent some days.

Edney Ridge, one of THE TELEGRAM'S faithful carrier boys, is confined to his home by sickness.

Mrs. A. Weatherly and children left today on a visit to relatives in Rockingham county, near Madison.

Mrs. W. R. Murray and daughter, Mrs. Charles Thornton, left to-day on a visit to friends near Madison.

Miss Minnie Register returned last night from a two months' visit to friends and relatives in Moore county.

Dr. O. B. Stroud, of Ore Hill, came up this morning to go on the Asheville excursion. He is a brother of A. G. Stroud, of this city.

Rev. Allen Jones and wife, of Sanford, spent last night in the city with the family of John B. Wright and left on the noon train today for Hampden-Sidney, Va., where Mr. Jonee enters school.

Miss Susie Richardson, of Reidsville, passed through the city yesterday en route to Salem academy, accompanied by her sister, where the latter will attend school. Miss Susie graduated from that institution last year.

THE PLAN ADOPTED.

Those Bad People Must Get Out of the "Meadow."

The plan suggested in yesterday's TELEGRAM for the renovation of the "Meadow" has been adopted. Last night six gentlemen owning the property comprising the "Meadow" met and signed an agreement that they would rent none of their property lying between North Davie and North Forbis streets on one side, and East Washington and East Market streets on the other to any disreputable person whatever. They placed themselves under a bond of $500 for the faithful observance of the agreement, and the first person to break over will be compelled to cough up the forfeit money.

This news will be hailed with delight by our people, as, in accordance with the agitation begun by THE TELEGRAM, this vile den of iniquity will hereafter be closed.

It is probable that the passing away of the "Meadow" will please no one more than our efficient city police force, to whom this vile locality has long been a thorn in the flesh. It has required the utmost efforts of the force to keep things down to even a state of normal quietude in the neighborhood, and the frequently recurring outbreaks have been a source of great trouble. On Sundays it has been necessary to have one or two policemen on hand during the entire day.

Guilford's Tax Equalization.

Several days ago Register of Deeds Kirman had the tax lists returned by the State Board of Equalization with instructions that 10 per cent be added to the value of all the horses and mules in the county. This entailed a great amount of extra work, as all the lists had to be revised and corrected.

Mr. Kirkman and his force went to work on the job and have completed the greater part of the work. They are now at work on the Gilmer township list.

The Meeting at Grace Church.

Rev. T. M. Johnson, of Henderson, has arrived and is conducting evangelistic services at Grace church, preaching his first sermon last night. Mr. Johnson is a splendid preacher, and we hope his efforts at this place will be crowned with great success. His sermon last night was a searching and impressive one.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

A. Weatherly advertises for fifteen or twenty houses from which to collect rents. Mr. Weatherly is one of the best collectors in the city.

A young lady stenographer, typewriter and bookkeeper advertises for a position. Miss C. is apt and accurate and will fill a position with competency.

S. H. Boyd & Co. advertise a new and attractive insurance policy in today's paper. It is issued by the Fidelity and Casualty Co., of New York, and is a combination accident and health insurance policy.

A party of serenaders took advantage of the beautiful moonlight last night to mix up the strains of mandolin and guitar with the lambent luminosity of the palpitating air. No casualties have been reported.

TROUBLE BREWING.

An Injunction Threatened Against the Excavations on South Elm.

Some of our people are inclined to feel a bit uneasy on account of the excavation being made on South Elm street by the gas company. The work being done during excessive hot weather it is feared sickness will ensue.

When the board of aldermen first granted the gas company permission to make the excavations it was stipulated that not more than 100 feet of earth should be broken at one time, but this was rather a slow way of getting along and the gas company asked the aldermen for permission to proceed with the work at its pleasure.

It was thought by allowing larger excavations to be made the work would be greatly expedited, so the aldermen gave the desired permission, there being one dissenting voice, Captain Ellington being the member of the board voting against it.

Dirt is now broken on South Elm for a distance of 400 or 500 feet, and Capt. Ellington thinks it a menace to the health of the community and threatens to sue out an injunction and have the work stopped.

THE ASHEVILLE EXCURSION.

Eighty-five Tickets Sold from Greensboro—A Jolly Crowd.

The fact that an excursion to Asheville at popular rates will pay was demonstrated to-day. West's excursion left Raleigh this morning with five cars filled with passengers, and at Durham another car was added. When the train reached Greensboro two more cars were attached, and the train pulled out a few minutes after 12 o'clock with a large crowd of happy excursionists.

The crowd was composed of the best people, with but few of the toughs who usually go on excursions, making this trip a very desirable one.

The Durham brass band, which is one of the best in the state, was along to furnish music for the crowd.

Free Illustrated Lecture.

The young People's Society of West Washington street Baptist church has induced Dr. W. W. Rowe to give, at its regular meeting tonight, the results of his extensive investigation of the manners and customs of the people of Northern Africa.

Dr. Rowe has had an exceptional opportunity for gathering material on this subject, as some of his relatives have lived in this part of the dark continent.

A large number of pictures and curios will be used to illustrate the subject.

The society very cordially invites the public, and especially the other societies of the city, to meet with it to hear this lecture. Meeting promptly at 8 o'clock.

Where Will They Go?

Now that the denizens of the "meadow" are to be cleaned out, the question arises, where will these people go and what neighborhood is to be afflicted with them? A gentleman was heard to ask this question today.

It is not probable that any community will have to harbor them as a whole, as has been the case in the "meadow." Of course they must go somewhere, but as they will scatter about in various localities in moving they will not be so great a menace to society under the new condition of things.
